KITCHEN ROLES

Commis Chef

We are looking to recruit a Commis Chef to join our main kitchen brigade. A thorough understanding of professional kitchens will allow the right candidate to develop their talents at the Cott Inn. Experience is important, but potential to progress is a vital part of our operation with training on the job. Job Type: Full-time

Chef de Partie

We are looking for a strong Chef de Partie to join our team. The successful applicant will have experience in a similar role and possess a real passion and flair for food. We are always looking for talented chefs who are keen to develop, with potential to progress a vital part of our company culture. We have an enviable reputation for great food, our produce is of very high quality and locally sourced. We combine these elements with excellent standards of service to deliver a fantastic guest experience. We produce all our food in house, so knowledge of ingredients is paramount. Job Type: Full-time

FRONT OF HOUSE ROLES

Experienced Bar Staff

Our bar is the front line of our operation, meaning the bar team are the first friendly face to greet our guests. We are looking for someone with experience to come on board and help us continue to deliver award winning service. Good knowledge of drink preparation, from cask ales to cocktails, ability to manage dispense for tables and guests arriving at the bar and understanding of cellar maintenance & bar close down practices are second nature to a good bartender. We would love to discuss your experience in more detail and learn what you can bring to the role.

Job Type: Part-time & Full-time available

Experienced Front Of House Waiting Staff

We are looking for experienced waitresses and waiters to join our team and help us create the wonderful atmosphere we are known for. Our team work hard but have a good time doing it together. If you enjoy working in a friendly but busy environment we'd love to hear from you. A great shift at the Cott is all about the ability to think on your feet and take initiative while delivering a personal and bright style of service.

Job Type: Part-time & Full-time available
